

CHALLENGE FOR LEARNERS

I am happy today because I can present all the partners practical results of the work carried out in Portugal.

Local coordinator in Portugal wants to present you:

Pictures at an exhibition.

The coordinators of the exhibition and the showroom.

The cultural activity is a very remarkable field in the region and a reason of social cohesion. Linked to this and to the project works in this area with the local University students was decided to produce and organise an exhibition of their works along the course and we decided to support this initiative with a public exhibition for the community. With this initiative we intend to show the practical results of the module “Cultural Activity” in our country.

Our region, the cities around and the social structures are living a tremendous process of decomposition due to the immigration, desertification and new ways of life more interesting in the littoral cities. And of course the region is poor and the climate is inclement. Cultural heritage is what unites the people, traditions are well accepted and the main area of the third age universities.

After the conference the group decided to promote with us an exhibition of the works developed and we accepted because this is more relevant to show the results than other methodology.

The animals in the farm; how kids play building the own toys respecting the environment.

Embroideries, candles, bottles show us a more urban vocation and all the works are wonderful.

This section is dedicated to the “boys” and the good old days.

This section is dedicated to the “girls” and to their fairy hands. There are wonderful works. Please don't produce any comments about the division of social tasks, gender equality others.

The majority of the works shows us how life was different in that old days and how people has this in memory. Some of the students told us that they came to the university only because of... the choir .....because of the dances.....because of travels ... because of something. There are no obligations. For us this is important.

Thank you!
